Thought for the weekend: let us remember all of them

At this time of remembrance, it is important to remember that the sacrifices made by brave troops in the face of tyranny have been shared across nations and faith communities. For example, in World War 1 no less than a third of troops were from places such as Africa, India and Jamaica, including those of Muslim, Sikh and other faiths. Likewise in the Battle of Britain the Polish 303 Squadron was the most successful Fighter Command unit in the Battle.

This weekend we remember and give thanks for all of those who so bravely gave of themselves for the welfare of others. We do so mindful that people from across the world, representing so many different religions stood by Britain during our hour of need. Their sacrifice undoubtedly of such significance has rarely been appreciated and must never be forgotten.

This prayer was scratched on the wall of a prison cell in Cologne during the Second World War:

I believe in the sun, even when it does not shine.

I believe in love, even when I cannot feel it.

I believe in God, even when he is silent.

Who knows what was the faith of its author? Only God knows.

Prayer for the weekend: following the dramatic events this week in the USA, this is a prayer for those who lead nations.

O God our heavenly father, whose love sets no boundaries and whose strength is in service; grant to the leaders of the nation's wisdom courage and insight at this time of darkness and fear. Give to all who exercise authority a determination to defend the principles of freedom, love and tolerance strength to protect and safeguard the innocent and clarity of vision to guide the world into the paths of justice and peace. This we ask through our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen

Bell Ringers: Thank you to our Bell Ringers.
